

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK

COLUMBIA COLLEGE

THE FU FOUNDATION SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING AND APPLIED SCIENCE

Dear [REDACTED]

Congratulations! Dean Josef Sorett and the members of the Committee on Admissions join me in the most rewarding part of my job—informing you that you have been admitted to the Columbia College Class of 2028.

You have every reason to be proud of the achievements that we acknowledge with this joyous news. We hope you will also celebrate your admission with the family, friends, teachers, counselors and others who have helped you along the way. We see in you an individual who will embrace everything that Columbia has to offer, and we are eager for you to contribute your unique voice and gifts to our college, community and city.

At Columbia, you will surround yourself with friends, faculty and advisers who bring a world of different talents, backgrounds and perspectives to our campus. You will also immerse yourself in a curriculum that is both timeless and deeply relevant, and discover endless opportunities to explore interests, activities and passions both old and new—all in a city that is simply unlike any other.

As you prepare to embark on this exciting new chapter, please explore the admitted student pages of your application status portal, designed specifically for the Class of 2028. There, you will also accept your offer and learn more about next steps in the process, including the status of your financial aid application. Should you have any questions, our admissions staff is available to assist you.

This is just the beginning of your college journey, and all of us at Columbia look forward to welcoming you to our community next year. We feel lucky that you have chosen to be a Columbian.

Warmest regards,

Jessica Marinaccio
Dean of Undergraduate Admissions and Financial Aid
